

TURN ENGAGEMENT

Increasingly are returning to previous jobs after raising small children or pursuing other opportunities. But can you leave the same way twice and still get your old job back? By following a few tips, workers can return to a position for a second time around.

help to make your successor's transition as seamless as possible. Don't leave your desk or office a mess, said Vicki Rossetti, vice president of talent management for Chubb Group of Insurance Cos. Maintain your relationships. Keep in touch with old colleagues, even if you only have a short absence.

- Keep a list of your accomplishments handy to remind your managers of what you offer to the company. Provided you don't burn any bridges, your old company just might welcome you back with open arms.

BULLETIN BOARD

Bank opened its new banking center in Rock Hill The new facility replaces the previous Rock Hill location at 9800 Manchester

Manchester Road, Suite 63119

Completed Directions in the interior and construction of the Diagnostic Imaging's Central Center in Or-

Completed general construction of the area at St. Louis Hospital. A conference room was renovated into a recreational play area with a play loft, children's arcade stage, computer games and television.

Construction of St. Louis building a new Wal-Mart in Jackson- Construction of the 100,000-square-foot store began in June and is scheduled to be completed in September.

Construction Services completed a new 100,000-square-foot Support-Ability in Mount Vernon The $5.7 million project includes a veneer building, conference room, kitchen, restrooms, plus 66 apartments, private offices, restrooms, and heating and air conditioning.

Construction Services

Hastings & Chivetta project gets green recognition

The Recreation Center at The College of William & Mary in Williamsburg achieved certification as a U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC) Green Star project. Hastings & Chivetta Architects of Clayton designed the extensive renovation of the 40,000-square-foot facility. The center has more than 10,000 square feet of outdoor space, a tree, a rock climbing wall, and an additional exercise room. A new multipurpose room broke ground on a 54,000-square-foot Heritage Valley Assisted Living Facility in Centralia, Ill. The two-story, $6.4 million facility, scheduled for completion by February, will have 76 units.

The lobby of the Recreation Center at The College of William & Mary. Sam Fentress Photography

Systems integrator Wide Technology Inc. of St. Louis won a contract to provide Cisco systems products and services to Pacific Gas & Electric Co.

Overland-based Clayco has completed design and started construction on the United Southeast Federal Credit Union in Bristol, Tenn. The two-story, 16,000-square-foot facility is scheduled for completion in late November.

Phase II of a renovation project at Lewis & Clark Career Center in the St. Charles School District was completed.

Mosby Building Arts was named the top remodeling firm in the St. Louis area in Professional Remodeler magazine's 2007 Market Leaders list. Mosby, of Kirkwood, had $6.2 million of sales volume last year. Other area firms on the list are:

- Ehrlich's Kitchen & Baths, Hazelwood, $5.2 million
- PK Construction LLC, Kirkwood, $3.6 million
- Agape Construction Co., $3.4 million, Kirkwood
- Riggs Construction, Kirkwood, $2.7 million

expertise and vision. The new site is the first major update to HOK's Web presence since 2000.

Elite IT Services launched a newly designed website, www.eliteitservices.com, featuring specialty areas, enterprise architecture, project management, .net and Java development, as well as help desk and technical support services.

Lafayette Square Restoration Committee has launched

TAKING OVER

St. Louis-based Residential Mortgage Consultants was acquired by Vanguard Mortgage & Title Inc. of Littleton, Colo.

HELPING OUT

An annual drive held by First Bank employees donated 48 air conditioners, more than a $4,200 value, to EnergyCare for the elderly or ill.

The St. Louis-based Jordan Group advertising agency, KPLR (Channel 11) and Dairy Queen raised $25,000 through their sponsorship of the St. Louis Sportscasters Golf Tournament. Proceeds from the tournament benefit the Children's Miracle Network, which supports Cardinal Glennon Children's Medical Center and St. Louis Children's Hospital.

RECOGNITION

Grant Bourzikas, Scotttrade's director of information security and business continuity, was selected as one of the 40 Innovative IT People to Watch, Under the Age of 40 by Computerworld, an information technology trade publication of International Data Group Inc.

Barry L. Glantz, president of Glantz & Associates Architects, was selected as one of 12 judges for the annual Best in American Living Awards, a national design competition for new housing co-sponsored by Professional Builder magazine and the National Association of Home Builders.

Mosby Building Arts was named the top remodeling firm in the St. Louis area in Professional Remodeler magazine's 2007 Market Leaders list. Mosby, of Kirkwood, had $6.2 million of sales volume last year. Other area firms on the list are:

- Ehrlich's Kitchen & Baths, Hazelwood, $5.2 million
- PK Construction LLC, Kirkwood, $3.6 million
- Agape Construction Co., $3.4 million, Kirkwood
- Riggs Construction, Kirkwood, $2.7 million

Seven independent financial advisory firms from the St. Louis area are listed in Wealth Manager Magazine's annual ranking of top wealth managers. The listing, which appears in the trade publication's July/August 2007 issue, ranks firms by average client-relationship size. The firms are:

- Zemenick & Walker, St. Louis
- Plan Corp., Chesterfield
- Acropolis Investment Management, St. Louis
- Moneta Group Investment Advisors, Clayton
- Hill Investment Group, St. Louis
- Droms Strauss Advisors, St. Louis
- Paradigm Financial Advisors, Des Peres

AWARDS

Gelle-Leon Marketing Communications and its client, Suddenlink Communications, received these awards:

- Three bronze Telly Awards for a television advertising campaign promoting Suddenlink's video, high-speed Internet and telephone services.
- The St. Louis American Marketing Association Chapter's top Marketing Excellence award for large companies for their 2007 campaign promoting Suddenlink's new brand and services.

Area Development magazine presented a Silver Shovel Award to Missouri in recognition of the state's excellence in economic development.

To submit items:

John Linstead, St. Louis Post-Dispatch
900 North Tucker Boulevard
St. Louis, Mo. 63101
E-mail: jllinstead@post-dispatch.com
Phone: 314-340-8212
Fax: 314-340-3060